RESUME OF STEPHEN BREIDA

Stephen Breida was born in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania on 11 December 1930. He received a B. S. E. E. from Drexel Institute of Technology in Philadelphia in June 1952.

He received a M. S. E. E. in June 1954 from Purdue. His research thesis, in the field of active network synthesis, was under the direction of Professors R. P. Siskind and J. G. Truxal.

For the period 1954 to 1957 he worked as an Electronics Engineer for Convair, San Diego, and Convair Astronautics, engaged in analysis and development of missile tracking systems.

From September 1957 to March 1958 he was an Assistant Professor in the Electronics Engineering Department of the California State Polytechnic Institute at San Luis Obispo, California.

In March 1958 he joined the faculty of the Naval Postgraduate School, Monterey, California, where he is teaching in the Department of Electrical Engineering.

His primary background is systems engineering, and his interest in academic curricula content centers about network analysis and synthesis.
